3. General University rules

All students are required to familiarize themselves with the contents of the University's 'General Calendar' which is separate from this Calendar. The General Calendar sets out the General University rules that apply to all students and Faculties. Among the general rules are those that deal with matters such as:

- what qualifications one must have to be admitted to study at the University
- how to register for a course. (These rules include details on how to change courses, register for simultaneous courses, and whether credit will be given for work done at other tertiary institutions)
- what is required to pass a course, or to be awarded a distinction mark. (These rules include rules and details about tests, examinations and special examinations, rules about marks, rules that apply if a student misreads the examination timetable, and rules about readmitting students to or excluding students from courses)

4. Faculty rules

Faculty rules relate specifically to the degree and diploma programmes offered by the Faculty of the Humanities at the Qwaqwa Campus. These rules are to be found in this book.

5. General requirements to be admitted as a student to the Faculty

Generally students may register for courses offered by the Faculty of the Humanities if they qualify to study at the University.

BACHELOR DEGREES

1. The Bachelor of Arts (BA) (from the Latin Baccalaureus Artium) takes a minimum of three years to complete.

2. Explaining the terms, subjects, modules, codes and credits

The Faculty of the Humanities on the Qwaqwa Campus offers only one programme, a General BA degree. Students have various choices amongst a number of "subjects" within this programme, subject to institutional requirements. For example, the BA degree requires students to have at least two major subjects. These are subjects that students take for all the years of study.

Each subject is divided into "modules", which are more-or-less self-contained parts of that subject. For example, Political Science is a subject. It offers the following two first year modules: "Introduction to Politics" (PTW114) and "Introduction to World Politics and Global Governance" (PTW124). These two modules make up the first year subject of Political Science.

Each module is known by a code that contains useful information. To take first year Political Science again: the code for the module "Introduction to Politics" is PTW114. The PTW part gives the subject, which is Political Science. The first digit of the number (i.e. the first 1) gives the year of study: it is a first year module. The second digit (i.e. the second 1) gives the semester: odd numbers indicate first semester, even numbers indicate second semester. For example, PTW124 is a second semester module. The last digit gives the number of credits the module carries: multiply the last digit 4 by four, giving 16: PTW114 carries 16 credits.

Students must know how many credits each module carries, as each subject requires a certain number of credits for a student to pass.

3. The order in which students may take modules

The requirements for being able to take a module are set in the General rules (Reg. A5). In general, unless Departments permit modules to be taken in another order, students are accepted to later modules only if they have successfully completed earlier, preliminary modules. Module choices may also be restricted due to lecturing time table requirements.
