POSTGRADUATE COURSES: GENERAL INFORMATION

N.B. It is important that students know the general University regulations and the Faculty regulations that apply to their studies.

1.1 General University Regulations

The general University regulations that apply to all students and faculties are set out in the University Calendar Book.

1.2 Faculty Regulations

Faculty regulations that relate specifically to the degrees offered by the Faculty of the Humanities are in this book.

1.3 Degrees offered

The three levels of postgraduate qualifications offered by the Faculty of the Humanities are

- (1) Baccalaureus Artium Honores (B.A.Hons.), Baccalaureus Societatis Scientiae Honores (B.Soc.Sc.Hons.),
- (2) Magister Artium (M.A.), Magister Societatis Scientiae (M.Soc.Sc.), and
- (3) Philosophiae Doctor (Ph.D.).

1.4 General admission requirements to postgraduate courses

As a general rule, students are admitted to postgraduate studies and to each higher level of postgraduate study only if they fulfil the university requirements for registration, have completed the preliminary degree with a mark of 60% or more, and are accepted to the course they wish to study by the Head of Department.

1.5 The B.A.Hons. and B.Soc.Sc.Hons. degrees

Unless otherwise specified, the B.A.Hons. and B.Soc.Sc.Hons. degrees are a one-year full-time or a two-year part-time study in a particular field. In general, the degrees require students to select and study courses for examination, and to research and write a short mini-dissertation. In general, too, the B.A.Hons. and B.Soc.Sc.Hons. form the first year of the two-year structured M.A./M.Soc.Sc. degrees. The specific details of each course differ, and students must acquaint themselves carefully with the requirements of the course they choose.

1.6 The M.A. and M.Soc.Sc. degrees

Students generally have a choice between

(1) a two-year structured M.A. and M.Soc.Sc. and

(2) an M.A./M.Soc.Sc. by dissertation.

(1) The two-year, full-time, structured M.A./M.Soc.Sc. require students to select and study courses for examination, and to research and write a mini-dissertation. In general, students can register for the structured M.A./M.Soc.Sc. degree immediately after completing the B.A./B.Soc.Sc. degree, with the B.A.Hons./B.Soc.Sc.Hons. degree as an "exit" at the end of the first year.

(2) The M.A./M.Soc.Sc. by dissertation requires students to write a substantial research essay on a topic agreed upon with the Head of Department or a supervisor he appoints. In certain courses a number of published or publishable articles are accepted instead of a dissertation.

As the specific requirements of courses differ, students must acquaint themselves carefully with the requirements of the course they choose.

1.7 The Ph.D. degree

Unless otherwise specified, a Doctorate is awarded to a M.A./M.Soc.Sc. graduate who writes a research thesis of noteworthy substance. In certain courses a body of published or publishable articles are accepted instead of a thesis. Students must acquaint themselves with the specific requirements of their course.

1.8 The following postgraduate qualifications may be awarded in the Faculty:

POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMME FOR LANGUAGE PRACTICE

The Postgraduate Programme for Language Practice offers a Diploma, and a Master's degree. Students specialize in any one of six fields:

- (1) Translation
- (2) Interpreting
- (3) Lexicography and Terminology
- (4) Language Management
- (5) Language Technology and
- (6) Document Design and Text Editing

The presentation of modules is subject to the availability of lecturers.

1. CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The postgraduate courses in Language Practice are market-driven and outcomes-based. The career opportunities for students completing the courses include those of translator, conference interpreter, lexicographer, terminologist, language planner and manager, and language technologist.

2. ADMISSION TO THE COURSES; THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE DIPLOMA AND THE M.A. DEGREE

As a rule, students must fulfil the requirements of 1.4 of the General Information. These requirements are relaxed as a wide range of Bachelor's degrees are considered appropriate for admission to courses in the Language Practice Programme. Students must apply to the Director, who may admit them to the Programme subject to the taking of additional modules.

The Diploma is the equivalent of the first year of the Master's degree. For this reason, students registered for the Diploma who wish to continue may be admitted to the second year of the Master's degree, and students registered for the Master's degree may "exit" with a Diploma if they wish to discontinue studies after completing the first year of the Master's degree.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN LANGUAGE PRACTICE

1. CURRICULA (128 credits)

The curricula for the six fields of study from which students must choose (i.e Translation; Interpreting; Lexicography and Terminology; Language Management; Language Technology; or Document Design and Text Editing) are the same as those for the first year of the Master's degree. Students wishing to take the Diploma must see the Master's course outlined below.

(An administrative difference between the Diploma course and the first year of the Master's course is that the modules of the former courses have a digit 6 in place of the digit 7. For example; TPI612 indicates that this module (Interpreting Theory) is part of the Diploma course; while TPI712 indicates that the module is part of the first year of the Master's course.)
