Spier's Artist Patronage Programme is designed to give intensive support over an extended period to artists they judge to be exceptional and who they believe could greatly benefit from the creative freedom that the programme provides.
"The blind astronomer" is a culmination of Wilsenach's four-year long practical and theoretical search for ways of expressing the inaccessibility of language and the primacy of sight in the aesthetic.

Spier se "Artist Patronage Programme" is ontwerp om intensiewe ondersteuning oor 'n lang periode aan kunstenaars te gee wat na hulle oordeel uitsonderlik is en baat kan vind by die kreatiewe vryheid wat die program bied.
"The blind astronomer" is 'n kulminasie van Wilsenach se vier jaar lange praktiese en teoretiese soeke na maniere om uitdrukking te gee aan die ontoeganklikheid van taal en die belangrikheid van sig in die estetiese.
