REGULATIONS

The Calendar of the Faculty of Theology contains regulations that relate to the qualifications and programmes offered in the Faculty. Various regulations are applicable to the range of qualifications and programmes. There are two types of regulations:

1. General University Regulations

These regulations apply to all faculties, and hence to the degree and diploma qualifications and programmes of the Faculty of Theology. These regulations are set out in Part 1 of the General Calendar of the University, and deal with issues such as admission requirements of the University, registration as a student, recognition of prior learning and articulation, requirements for passing, examinations, etc.

2. Faculty Regulations

Faculty regulations relate specifically to the degree and diploma programmes offered by the Faculty of Theology. These regulations are explained and applied in this Calendar.

The regulations according to which a student registers will be valid for the duration of his/her studies for that particular qualification.

N.B.

It is the responsibility of students to acquaint themselves with both the General Regulations and the Faculty Regulations relevant to their studies.

Students who score less than 65% have to register for the developmental module in either Afrikaans (AFA 108) or English (ALC 108) at NQF Level 4 additional to the 512 credits prescribed in order to complete the B.Div degree or 516 if the student needs to register for BRS 111 as well.

Degree cum laude

The Baccalaureus Divinitatis degree is awarded with distinction if a student

- i. achieves a minimum combined average of 75% in all the modules; and
- ii. completes the curriculum within four years.

CURRICULUM

The curriculum for the Baccalaureus Divinitatis degree takes a minimum of four academic years (eight semesters) to complete. The degree requires a minimum of 512 credits of which 384 consist of compulsory core modules. A further 128 credits must be obtained which form part of the 512 credits prescribed in order to complete the degree. If these 128 credits are not made up by Hebrew and Greek, any other applicable fields could be selected. The latter is based on the prerequisite that the electives do not clash with the lecture and examination timetables of the University. Computer Literacy (BRS111) is an extracurricular module for which students have to register, unless they qualify for exemption.¹⁸ The total number of credits then required for completion of the degree is 516. All new first year students from 2012 register for the developmental module of the University namely UFS 101 (32 credits). The latter does not apply to the successful completion of the B.Div degree. The curriculum must be compiled based upon academic advice by the Director of Programmes.

Completion of the Baccalaureus Divinitatis (Extended Programme) may meet the minimum entry requirements of Master's degrees.

The B.Div. (Extended Programme) programme accommodates compulsory developmental modules in order to prepare students to master the academic requirements for admission into and completion of the B.Div. degree.

In the compilation of the curriculum, it is the responsibility of students to make sure that the applicable timetables accommodate elective modules without clashes.

Admission

To be admitted to the Baccalaureus Divinitatis (Extended Programme) a student must be in possession of

- i. a Senior Certificate with endorsement (until 2007), with an M-score of 25-29 points; or
