Rule F57	Postgraduate Diploma in Tax Strategy and Management PGDip (Tax Strategy and Management) Academic Plan code: BC655051 (Minimum total credits: 132)

Information

South African tax legislation has undergone fundamental changes over the past decade. This programme will bring all parties involved in the field of taxation up to date with the latest developments. Tax consultants will be empowered to optimally position themselves and their clients from a strategic tax perspective now and in the future.

This programme will not be offered in 2017 if a sufficient number of enrollees cannot be secured to render the programme sustainable.

This programme is accredited by the South African Institute of Tax Practitioners (SAIT).

Admission

Any BCom /BAcc programme that includes a taxation module;

OR

An equivalent programme that includes taxation as a major module.

All submissions are subject to a selection process.

Curriculum

The minimum duration of the Postgraduate Diploma programme is one year, and the maximum period to obtain the diploma is three years.

Module name	Semester 1	Semester 2
Basic corporate taxation	ETXB5803	ETXB5803
Advanced corporate taxation	ETXC6803	ETXC6803

Estate planning	ETXE6803	ETXE6803

Value added tax (VAT) – the essentials	ETXV5803	ETXV5803
Comprehensive integrated case study in taxation	ETXI6803	ETXI6803
Structured module credits	132

Recognition of prior learning (RPL) would then be used for students who wish to register for the full programme at a later stage. A maximum of 25% of the credits accrued at the highest NQF level in the previous completed qualification(s) be acknowledged for another qualification.

An approved module or modules from another department may be included in the study with the permission of the programme director and the departmental chair concerned. The appropriate module code must be used.

Registrations

The final registration date of the Business School does not necessarily correspond with the final registration date of the University, but will not be later than the final registration date of the University.

Students from other higher education institutions who wish to register at this University and students of this University who interrupted their studies for a year or longer, are subject to the stipulations of Rule A82 (a) (iv), bound to comply with the regulations that apply at the time of the mentioned registration unless, on recommendation of the director, the dean should decide otherwise.

A student may only register twice for a specific module. In other words, you only have two chances to register and pass the examination on the specific module.

Rule F58	Postgraduate Diploma in General Accountancy PGDip (General Accountancy) Academic Plan code: BC655050 (Minimum total credits: 128)

Information

This programme also serves as a prerequisite and entrance requirement for the BAccHons or the PGDip (Chartered Accountancy).

Students should have obtained at least 60% average in the third year of BCom (Accounting) degree (or an equivalent at another institution). Students from other institutions must seek specific permission from the programme director: training of accountants.

Students planning to enrol for BAccHons or PGDip (Chartered Accountancy) in the future with the objective to pursue a career in chartered accountancy should enrol for the following four compulsory year-modules:

Module name	Semester 1	Semester 2

Admission to the Initial Test of Competence (ITC) of SAICA. Please refer to the study guide for full details.

Honours Degree Programmes

An Honours degree programme offers a student who is already in possession of a relevant Bachelor's Degree or Advanced Diploma the opportunity of studying further in his/her chosen field. Only the Bachelor Honours degree following a corresponding first Bachelor's Degree may be registered for. In exceptional cases, and only for very well substantiated reasons, special permission may be granted for a student to switch to a non-corresponding Bachelor Honours programme.

Whereas a Bachelor's Degree programme provides a student with a solid foundation, it still is only for his/her chosen career. A Bachelor Honours Degree programme paves the way for more advanced postgraduate studies, in other words, a Master's Degree programme or eventually a Doctoral Degree programme, which is the highest academic degree attainable.

A Bachelor Honours Degree programme offers opportunities for significantly enhancing knowledge in a preferred field of study, allowing students to acquire a deeper understanding and background that prepares the student more thoroughly. This degree also prepares students for research-based postgraduate study. A Bachelor Honours Degree could also carry recognition by an appropriate professional or statutory body. The following Bachelor Honours Degrees can be obtained in this faculty.

Information

Prospective students must submit their written applications for admission to the departmental chair the previous year before 30 September. Admission to the Bachelor Honours Degree programme study is subject to the results of the selection process. Application forms are available from the departmental chair of Industrial Psychology.

Prerequisites

In order to qualify for admission to the selection process for the Bachelor Honours Degree programme, a prospective student should adhere to the following prerequisites:

- The student has either already obtained a Bachelor's Degree or qualifies to obtain a Bachelor's Degree before enrolling for the Bachelor Honours Degree programme.

It is recommended that students from other faculties and universities interested in applying for the Bachelor Honours Degree programme in Industrial Psychology:

- Have passed at least six of the undergraduate Industrial Psychology modules (or equivalent modules from other institutions) with an average mark of at least 60%, but not less than 55% in each module, of which 32 credits need to be at NQF Level 5, 32 credits at NQF Level 6 and 32 credits at NQF Level 7.

- Research Methodology and Organisational Psychology at undergraduate level is a strong recommendation.

It is recommended that students who are not registered for a BCom with specialisation in Human Resource Management degree, and who intend to do the Bachelor Honours degree programme in Industrial Psychology, contact the departmental chair (Industrial Psychology) or course coordinator for directives regarding the compilation of their undergraduate Industrial Psychology modules.

Master's Degree Programmes

A Master's Degree programme offers students who are already in possession of a NQF Level 8 qualification the opportunity to further their studies in a specialised field of their preference.

A Bachelor's degree provides a student with a solid general foundation, and a Bachelor Honours degree programme offers advanced knowledge in a specific subject or area. Additional postgraduate study for a Master's degree is an invaluable way of focusing more scientifically on one's field of specialisation. It is also the prerequisite programme for the highest academic qualification, namely a Doctoral degree.

Except in the case of MPA or MBA programmes, only the Master's Degree that corresponds with the previously obtained Bachelor's and Honours degrees will be conferred. In exceptional cases only, and only for very well substantiated reasons, may special permission be granted for a prospective student to be accommodated in a non-corresponding Master's Degree programme.

Except for programmes such as MPA or MBA, a Master's degree programme is obtained in a specific discipline or subject.

A Master's programme can be obtained in two ways:

(a) a module option, comprising of four, six or more modules plus a mini-dissertation .

OR

(b) a full dissertation.

The following Master's degree programmes are offered in this faculty:

Admission

Permission to follow a Masters Degree programme in a certain discipline must be obtained from the relevant departmental chair. Admission is further subject to departmental selection. This must be done prior to the student's registration for that particular year.

For admission to the MAcc and MPA programmes refer to Faculty Rules F48 and F50.

All students registered according to the dissertation option should, in collaboration with the study leader(s), prepare at least one article for publication in an approved research journal before the dissertation is submitted for examining.

Detail regarding the process to register and complete a Master's dissertation

Students wishing to complete a Master's dissertation must comply with the following procedures:

- 1) Submit his/her academic record as part of an application to the relevant department and on the basis of the academic record obtain permission from the head of the relevant department to proceed with the process.
- 2) The relevant department may also require the applicant to write a language proficiency test, the results of which will be used, together with the student's academic record, to gain permission from the head of the department to proceed with the process.
- 3) Within three months of the registration, submit a research proposal to the relevant departmental Master's committee evaluating Master's research proposals and do a presentation on the proposal to the committee. The three months can be extended by another three months if the student has to resubmit his/her proposal – see below for more detail on resubmission. Note that 3 (+3) months is the maximum time allowed.
- 4) Submission, resubmission and approval of research proposals by the departmental master's committee should occur within the first 3 (+3) months of the registration. If after the 3 (+3) month period no research proposal was approved, the student cannot continue with a Master's degree. (Of course, heads of departments can use their discretion to allow continuation if sufficient grounds exist for doing so.)
- 5) The departmental master's committee should then consider approval of the proposal. Once approval is granted, the student is allowed to continue with his/her study. If approval is not granted, the student can be given a date within three months to resubmit the proposal. Thus, the research proposal should be finalised and approved within the first six months of registration.
- 6) Following approval by the departmental master's committee, the title, the supervisor(s) and assessors must be submitted for approval at the first upcoming meeting of the faculty's research committee. The internal supervisor should do the title registration and the registration of the supervisor(s) and assessors simultaneously.
- 7) In addition to approval of the research proposal at the departmental master's committee, the student may, following approval at the departmental master's committee, be required to also obtain ethical clearing at the relevant University ethical committee.
- 8) A research Master's Degree can be completed either as a research dissertation or two interrelated publishable manuscripts/published articles. The requirement in respect of a Master's Degree by research is a minimum of two, two interrelated publishable manuscripts/published articles in the form of a manuscript that should be submitted to the supervisor.

- 9) The University distinguishes between full-time and part-time students. The time allocated for part-time studies is double that of full-time studies.
- 10) Students should re-register annually until completion of the Master's Degree.
- 11) The degree must be completed within the period prescribed by University regulations.

Rule F43	Master of Industrial Psychology MIndPsyc (Structured) Academic Plan code: BC673101 (Minimum total credits: 218)

Information

The purpose of the Master of Industrial Psychology programme is to provide students with a well-rounded education within the field of Industrial Psychology, equipping them with the necessary professional skills as required by the Health Professions Council of South Africa (HPCSA) to apply for registration as an Industrial Psychologist as well as providing them with an advanced practical knowledge of the field. Graduating with the Master of Industrial Psychology provides graduates with a further opportunity to enter into an internship programme and thereafter a board examination, in order to be able to register as Industrial Psychologists with the HPCSA.

Prospective students must apply in writing for admission to the programme. Application forms are available from the Department of Industrial Psychology. The application forms as well as an academic record and certified copies of programme certificates should be sent or faxed to the departmental chair of the Department of Industrial Psychology. Students who completed their undergraduate and postgraduate studies at another university need to apply through student administration, with an application form available on the University's website at www.ufs.ac.za.

Pre-conditions for Admission

Admission to this Master's Degree programme is subject to approval by the departmental chair and departmental selection committee based on a satisfactory study record. A student must have obtained a relevant Honours Degree in Industrial Psychology (or an equivalent qualification at NQF Level 8) with an average of at least 65% and a mark of at least 65% for the honours research mini-dissertation. The department may also use the following as additional essential entrance criteria: competency-based interviews, in-basket exercises and/or the submission of an essay in which the applicant describes the focus of the envisaged study within the department's specific research focus areas.

Curriculum

The curriculum must be compiled according to the table set out below. Students will have a minimum of one year to complete the degree, if they study on a full-time basis. However, those students studying part-time will have two years to complete the degree. It is important to note that students are required to start with the programme during their first year of study. It is further recommended that part-time students complete their mini-dissertation by the end of their second study year and full-time students by the end of their first year of study.

Information

The MPA is an established career-focused postgraduate programme aimed at high-level management in the public sector. It is intended for graduates who have not necessarily had an undergraduate background in public administration or management, but who have gained relevant career experience in the public sector or related areas and who want to strengthen their management abilities.

To be admitted to the MPA degree programme a student must have obtained at least an average of 65% for his/her Bachelor's Degree and must have passed the TALPS test on at least a level 4. The student needs to have at least five years career experience in the public sector at a managerial level.

Prospective students must apply in writing for admission to the programme before 30 April for the second semester intake and 30 September prior to registration in the following year. Application forms are available at the Department of Public Administration and Management. Permission to register for a MPA degree programme must be obtained from the head of the department prior to registration. A student in the MPA degree programme must be registered for a minimum of two years.

To be able to continue with the mini-dissertation in the second year of study, the student must have passed the EPAR7914 (research methodology) module, or equivalent module if that student completed his/her studies at another university.

DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

The Centre for Development Support (CDS) is presenting an interdisciplinary Master of Development Studies degree programme with lecturers from different departments and centres at the University and several other collaborating universities facilitating module material.

The CDS has completed several rapid assessments identifying a large demand for qualified development managers and development workers in the public, NGO and private sectors in Southern Africa. This training field is relatively untapped and a niche market exists to deepen the understanding of development issues among participants. The programme definitely meets the expectations and needs of society.

Admission

Over and above the general rules regarding admission to this University and the admission to the Master's degree, the following admission requirements must be met:

- A recognised qualification with 120 credits at NQF Level 8 or equivalent by means of Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL).
- A satisfactory academic record.
- Five years of work-related learning experience in development.

Prospective applicants need to complete an application form and hand in the following:

- MDS application.
- Recommendation forms.
- An essay on what you consider as the major development challenges facing your region.
- Motivation on why you wish to be included in the Master of Development Studies degree programme.

- Proof of successful completion of the TALPS test on at least level 4.
- Academic record.
- Curriculum Vitae.

A selection takes place at the end of the year and the admission requirements apply. An admission committee will assess all applicants' prior learning against a set of outcomes written according to level descriptors at NQF Level 8. A policy of limited enrolment will be practiced.

To be able to continue with the mini-dissertation in the second year of study, the student must have passed the EDSD7905 (research methodology) module.

Admission

Admission to a PhD degree programme is subject to approval by the particular chair of the department and/or programme director in which the degree is envisaged, based on a satisfactory academic background and the submission of an approved research proposal in conjunction with the prescribed procedures of the particular department.

No mini-dissertations or dissertations of less than 60 credits or with a duration of less than one academic year will be sufficient to be considered for admittance to a PhD. Adherence to the stated requirements will not necessarily guarantee admission to the PhD.

All students registered should, in collaboration with the promoter(s), prepare at least one article for publication in an approved research journal before the thesis is submitted for examining. Students who wish to pursue the interrelated, publishable manuscripts/published articles route should do so in compliance with UFS guidelines.

Detail regarding the process to register and complete a Doctoral thesis

Students wishing to complete a Doctoral degree must comply with the following procedures:

- 1) Submit his/her academic record as part of an application to the relevant department.
- 2) Submit a copy of his/her Master's dissertation/mini-dissertation to be used by the relevant department to assess the applicant's writing skills.
- 3) The relevant department may also require the applicant to write a language proficiency test, the results of which will be used in the application assessment process.
- 4) Prior to admission write and submit an essay (of not more than 5 000 words) under controlled supervision, in which the applicant describes the scope, focus and envisaged field of the study.
- 5) The relevant department will use the documents listed in (1) to (4) to decide on admission of the student to the Doctoral degree programme.
- 6) Once admitted the student must complete a research proposal within six months (for full-time studies, 12 months for part-time studies). Therefore, full-time students who register in January (July) need to present their research proposal to the relevant department in the following July/August (January/February). Part-time students who register in January (July) need to present their research proposal to the relevant department in the following January/February (July/August).
- 7) Once the relevant department approves the research proposal, the student needs to present the research proposal to the faculty research committee at its September (March) meeting. If approved, the student is allowed to register for the next academic year.
- 8) The faculty research committee may request the student to resubmit the research proposal at its November (May) meeting. If approved at the November (May) meeting, the student is allowed to register for the next academic year.
 - a. If changes required are small, the resubmission is done only in writing at the November (May) meeting of the faculty research committee. The changed written proposal as well as a cover letter from the student setting out how the student addressed the issues raised by the committee must be submitted to the committee at least two weeks before the meeting.
 - b. If the changes required are more substantial the faculty research committee may require that along with the resubmission the student present the proposal again to the committee. This will be done at the November (May) meeting.
- 9) If the proposal is academically seriously lacking, the faculty research committee has the authority to reject the proposal outright, either at the September (March) or November (May) meeting. Outright rejection implies that the student cannot register for the next academic year of the Doctoral degree programme and also does not get another opportunity to present the proposal.

- 10) Once the faculty's research committee approves the proposal, the title of the thesis as well as the supervisors will be registered. Assessors can be registered later.
- 11) If after the first year of registration no research proposal has been approved, the student cannot continue with the Doctoral degree programme. (Heads of department or the faculty research committee can use their discretion to allow continuation if sufficient grounds exist for doing so.)
- 12) If, after the faculty research committee accepted the proposal, the student makes small changes to the title of the thesis, the relevant departmental Doctoral committee and the Faculty's Research Committee must approve these changes. The student need not submit a new research proposal. Such small changes should not involve substantial changes to the topic. Should significant and substantial changes be made to the title and content of the thesis (i.e. a change of topic), the student may be required to submit a new proposal and undergo the full approval process anew.
- 13) In addition to approval of the research proposal at the faculty research committee, the student may, following approval at the faculty research committee, be required to also obtain ethical clearing at the relevant University ethical committee.
- 14) A Doctoral degree can be completed either as a Doctoral thesis or interrelated, publishable manuscripts/published articles written under the guidance of a promoter or a promoter and a co-promoter(s). The requirement in respect of a Doctoral degree in the form of publishable, interrelated articles is that at least three publishable articles are submitted.
- 15) The University distinguishes between full-time and part-time students. The time allocated for part-time studies is double that of full-time studies.
- 16) Students must re-register annually until completion of the Doctoral degree.
- 17) The degree must be completed within the period prescribed by University regulations.
